Can a Lawyer – A Program About Professionalism

Lawyer and educator Stuart Teicher, Esq. recently tried a Google search that started with the words "Can a lawyer…" The phrases that were auto populated by the search engine were interesting. He got to wondering…can lawyers do all of those things? And even if we can, should we? That last part of the question causes us to look at professionalism concerns. Interestingly, all the concepts of the South Carolina Lawyer's Oath are also reflected in these issues. In this program we'll explore the answers to those questions and the professionalism implications that are brought up by each.
